Late Premier Claimed by Death.
London: Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, former Premier of the British Empire, passed away Wednesday morning. The cause of his death was heart failure. The death of Sir Henry, after a lingering illness of more than two months, did not come as a surprise. Although the doctors' bulletins had not declared his condition critical, the fact was known, and the public had been expecting the announcement of his death during the last fortnight.

Goes Hunting and is Found Dead.

Hico: Leaving the home of his sister, whom he was visiting, about four miles south of this place, J. D. Cargill of Austin said he was going to kill a rabbit. He was found about an hour later about 100 yards from the house, seated on the gallery of a vacant house with the rifle resting between his his knees and a bullet wound in his forehead, from the effects of which he died. His parents at Austin were notified.

Shot Unto Death by Assassin.

Navasota: George W. L. Carr, lawyer and prominent citizen of Navasota, was shot about 7:30 o'clock Monday evening as he was going into his stable to turn out his horse. The weapon used was evidently a large caliber revolver. The bullet entered the right side about the lower ribs and came out of the back on the right side, penetrating the bowels. Attending physicians hold out but little hope of his recovery. The assassin escaped.

Uncle Luke Caster Dead

Uncle Luke Caster, aged 88 years, died at his home 4 miles west of Irving, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, September 12. He suffered a paralysis stroke some three years ago, from which he had never recovered, and from the shock of which his wife died at the time.

The funeral services were simple, and he was laid to rest at the Shady Grove cemetery on Sunday about 11 o'clock. And hosts of friends assembled to witness the consignment of the body of this pioneer to Mother Earth.

Uncle Luke Caster, as he was familiarly known, was one of the pioneers and interesting characters of the "Forks of the Trinity." With his father, Henry Caster, and brothers Jake, Andy and Dan, he came from Illinois to Texas in 1850, and located near the present townsite of Irving. And it is said he built the second house in the "Forks of the Trinity"—on old Gorbit prairie, on what is now known as the Britian place. To cover this house he is said to have rived boards in the bottom and to have opened a trail to them which is now the graveled road from Vandervort hill toward the West Fork. He has resided in this vicinity continuously since, and is some way related to most every family in this territory. His father died here in about 1878, at the age of 94 years. He leaves two sons: Andrew who lives in this vicinity; Henry who lives in Clay county, and one daughter, Mrs. Florence Hancock, who lives in Dallas. This area is dotted with Caster homes and the name is honored here.

Thrown on Barbed Wire Fence.
Bonham: L. B. Chitwood, a young farmer living six miles southwest of here, met death late Thursday afternoon while riding a mule. The animal ran away, throwing him on a barbed wire fence. His foot hung in the stirrup, and he was dragged along the wire for some distance, the wire cutting his throat and almost severing the head from the body. He was a Mason, and was buried by that fraternity at Ector Saturday.

Aged Citizen Dies

Sunday night, Nov. 1, in Dallas, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Burroughs, Mr. John Clark's spirit passed from its mortal habitation. Monday the remains were brought to Irving to the home of his grand daughter, Mrs. C. M. Collier, from which place the funeral was held that evening—Rev. Mr. Barcus of Dallas conducting the services.

By former request of deceased, the burial was in the old Haley cemetery near Sowers, where Mr. Clark had lived in pioneer days. Many old friends attended the funeral and paid last tribute to their former neighbor.

Mr. Clark was 82 years of age, and time only had wasted his constitution. He was one of the pioneers of the Irving area, but not residing here recently. He leaves many relatives and friends here to cherish his memory. The verdict is, a good citizen and worthy man has been called to his reward.

Mr. Dan Cunningham Dies

Mr. D. M. Cunningham died Monday evening, after a lingering illness with pneumonia. Mr. Cunningham was one of the worthy and respected citizens of this vicinity, and his death is made the more sad by the fact that his wife was called home just two weeks before the husband had to answer death's summons.

2 Sons
1 daughter

Three children survive them here—a boy nearly grown, and a girl and boy about 5 and 8 years respectively; and a daughter survives Mr. Cunningham in Tennessee. These orphans have the sincere sympathy of our warmhearted citizens.

Mr. Cunningham was not a church member, but was a christian gentleman, and held in high esteem by his neighbors. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Tom Green of Dallas, at the Kit cemetery, where the interment took place Tuesday evening—in the presence of a large crowd of friends and neighbors.
