

Missing 6-Year-Old Found Dead

LEAKEY, Tex. (UPI) - The body of a six-year-old boy, missing since he wandered away from a campsite at Garner State Park late Saturday, was found Tuesday only 15 feet from where he was last seen.

Texas Ranger Capt. Alfred Allee of Carrizo Springs found the body of John Wayne McCandless of Corpus Christi in an open sewer pit near where his parents were camping when he disappeared.

The boy apparently drowned. Authorities estimated he had been dead 65 hours.

Searchers had combed the rugged, mountainous state park area about 90 miles west of San Antonio for two days for the boy. At times the search party numbered more than 1,000 men and two helicopters.

Skin divers had probed deep holes in the fast-moving Frio River, which cuts through the park.
