Rites for Irving man in Pittsburgh

Funeral services for 43-year-old Leonard Quattrochi, who drowned Sunday night in the Gulf of Mexico, will be at 11:15 a.m. Friday at Frank Perman Funeral Home, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Quattrochi, general manager and production head for B & G Co. of Dallas, was drowned, according to investigators, when he dived off Galveston pier in search of his wallet.

A native of Pittsburgh, Quattrochi received his BS degree in entomology from the University of Pittsburgh in 1952 and his masters degree from the University of Maryland in 1956.

He served in the U.S. Army until 1954 before beginning work on his masters degree. Quattrochi, who lived at 1608 MacArthur Blvd., was born Nov. 16, 1930. He was a member of Holy Family of Nazareth Church and was national production manager for Chemlgo of Kansas City, Mo. before joining B & G two years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Wilma Quattrochi; three sons, Sam, Leon and Carl Quattrochi; a daughter, Ann Quattrochi, all of Irving; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Quattrochi of Pittsburgh, Pa.
