A native of Menard
and a former resident of Kaufman, Callan moved to Fort Worth 27 years ago. In 1956 he became associated with Staley McBreyer, who esta-lished the chain of suburban papers that was the forerunner of the Daily News chain.

Prior to joining Mc-Breyer, Callan was publisher of the Kaufman Herald with his father, L.E. Callan, who survives him. He also served in the Texas Leg-sislature as a representative from Kaufman County.

Callan, considered by his peers as master craftsman in the field of suburban journalism, remained with the chain after it was purchased by Belo Corp. His regular columns, commenta-
ties on the times,
appeared in Mid-Cities
Daily News, Arlington
Daily News, Grand Prairie Daily News and Irving Daily News in the 1960s.

During his 22 years
with the suburban newspaper chain, he served as wire editor and managing editor.
