An Irving man and a Euliss resident were killed in Irving this weekend as a result of traffic accidents on S.H. 183.

At 10:50 p.m. Friday, 27-year-old Jose Rubid Hernandez of Irving was struck by a car as he was crossing S.H. 183 east of O'Connor Road. He was taken to Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas and pronounced dead at 1:05 a.m. Saturday, police said.

Police said witnesses observed Hernandez jumping over the center wall in the 200 block of S.H. 183. As he ran across the westbound lanes of the highway he was struck by the right front fender of a Volkswagen Rabbit. Hernandez' vehicle was found with a flat tire directly across from the scene on the shoulder of the south service road. A spare tire was not found in the vehicle, police said.

Police said the men in the car entered S.H. 183, traveled about 800 feet and reached a speed of about 50 miles per hour when the truck hit the car from behind. The driver of the truck was not wearing a seat belt and was thrown from the vehicle, police said. He was pronounced dead at the scene and probably died of head injuries, police said.

Police said witnesses who were traveling on S.H. 183 observed the truck passing them at a high rate of speed. The excessive speed at which the truck was traveling was a contributing factor in the severity of the accident, police said.

The driver of the car will be issued citations for having no driver's license or insurance, police said, but no charges will be filed.
