Grand jury indicts Irving physician

By RICK DILL
Daily News Staff

Dr. Elbert H. Stanton has been indicted on a charge of murder in the Jan. 15 shooting death of Kerry Wayne Thurman after a dispute over a dog.

A court date had not been set as of Friday; the case will be tried in Criminal District Court No. 4, Judge Francis Maloney presiding.

Stanton, 69, was arrested at the scene of the shooting with the murder weapon still in his hand. Investigations Lt. Richard Bailey was not surprised the grand jury indicted him. "It's kind of hard not to in a case like this."

Thurman, 25, was killed in the parking lot outside his home at Turtle Lake Condominiums in south Irving where Stanton also lived. Stanton is married to Norma Stanton, an ex-councilwoman and mayoral candidate in the last city election. The doctor was not living with his wife at the time of the shooting.

According to police reports, Robin Thurman had argued with Stanton at about 7:15 a.m. because she was walking her small dog off the leash, a violation of condominium rules. Phil Pranter, Turtle Lakes manager, said the condominiums don't allow pets over 20 pounds.

According to police reports, witnesses said Stanton reportedly kicked the dog and verbally abused Robin Thurman before threatening to call police. When Robin Thurman returned to her home, on the ground floor directly across the parking lot from Stanton's condominium, Kerry Thurman went outside to talk to the doctor.

He approached Stanton, who was sitting in his car in the middle of the parking lot. According to what Mrs.

Thurman told police, her husband walked around the front of the car and approached the driver's side window. He was shot once in the chest. Robin Thurman watched the shooting from her front porch.

Stanton fired the shot through the window, hitting Thurman from a distance of about four feet, police said. Stanton, who is a physician, was waiting when police arrived; witnesses said he did not attempt to aid Thurman. Thurman died at 8:15 a.m. in Parkland Memorial Hospital.

Municipal Judge John Chandler originally arraigned Stanton that morning on a charge of murder and $25,000 bond. The bond was later dropped to $15,000 by District Judge Ed Kinkade and Stanton was free on bond the same day.

Meanwhile, Turtle Lakes residents secured a peace bond from Justice of the Peace Mark Ovard the day of the shooting to keep Stanton from returning to the neighborhood. If Stanton returns he will be arrested and held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Stanton's wife said her husband spoke with her after the arrest and said he was harassed into shooting Thurman, and that he was upset when Thurman started yelling at him.

Neighbors at the condominiums said for a long time Stanton was a menace to children and animals, as well as other people. Last October, after Stanton reportedly harassed several children, a petition was submitted to Turtle Lakes management asking that Stanton be dealt with.

"I really believe that someone, somewhere, someone was going to hurt," said Turtle Lakes resident Lois Hensley. "We did not know had a gun or we really would have been scared."

"This is something that just didn't occur," Hensley said. "I have been going on a long time."
