Girl's body found

By GENE ABRABHAMSON
Daily News Staff

The bloody body of a young girl was found along the side of Oakdale Road early today.

Police reported a truck driver spotted the body of the girl at about 7 a.m. today at the 400 block of Oakdale Road, about a quarter mile west of Belt Line Road. The site is in north Grand Prairie, near the Irving city limits.

A field agent from the Dallas medical examiner’s office was called to the scene while officers attempted to identify the 4- to 5-year-old white girl and how she died. Her body was taken to the medical examiner’s office for an autopsy.

"We don’t know what the circumstances are at this time," Grand Prairie Police Sgt. Mike Sneed said. The girl’s body was found lying face down on the south shoulder of the road near a riding club’s arena. Sneed said she was wearing panties and some kind of sleeper shirt, possibly pajamas.

Blood was on the girl’s head and upper body.

Police Capt. Rick White, Grand Prairie police department spokesman, said investigators determined the girl was run over by a vehicle on the shoulder of the road. They were unsure if she was dead before the vehicle rolled over her.

Police are unsure how long the body was on the side of the road before being spotted.

"It apparently had been here a while because the first officers on the scene said there was frost in her hair," Sneed said.
Charge filed in death

By DAVID LEARY
Daily News Staff

A capital murder charge was filed Friday against Jackie B. Wilson, accused in the kidnapping, rape and murder of 5-year-old Maggie Rhodes.

Wilson, who remained jailed Friday in Arlington in lieu of $500,000 bond, faces life imprisonment or the death penalty if convicted.

Wilson, 21, was linked to the crime by four fingerprints lifted from pieces of glass that were broken out of a window near the girl's bed, police said.

Investigators hope further evidence obtained from Wilson, including hair samples and a blood sample, can be matched to similar evidence removed from the girl's body during an autopsy, police spokesman Dee Anderson said.

Rhodes was abducted from her bedroom at Arlington Village apartments, 2215 Harriett St., sometime after 2 a.m. Nov. 30. She was sexually assaulted and then either strangled or suffocated, an autopsy determined.

Her body was found by a truck driver about five hours later in the 400 block of Oakdale Road in Grand Prairie.

Wilson formerly lived at Arlington Village apartments and knew Maggie Rhodes and her mother, Toni Rhodes.

At the time of his arrest, he was unemployed and living with his sister in Irving.
Murder suspect arrested at Irving complex

The apartment has been leased by Linda Hernandez, Wilson's sister, but only for only a short time.

"I don't know what this is all about," said Hernandez, an Irving beautician. "I just don't know what they are saying anyway."

Although the arrest was made in Irving, Capt. David Hanks said the Irving Police Department's only involvement was to assist Arlington police in the arrest.

"We were there to assist on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle," Hanks said.

Hanks said the IPD was not aware that Wilson was a suspect in the Rhodes murder at the time the arrest was made.

Toni Rhodes, the girl's mother, was waiting tables Wednesday at the Arlington diner where she works when she learned that an arrest had been made.

"When I first found out, I was glad, but I was also afraid to find out if it was someone I knew," said Rhodes, who later would learn that it was an acquaintance. Wilson, 21, who was being held in the slaying of her daughter.

"Knowing that it's someone I know really bothers me," said Rhodes, 23, as she finished her shift Wednesday afternoon at Gordon's Diner. "I can't go through it as easy now."

Wilson, an unemployed friend of Toni Rhodes' live-in baby sitter, 18-year-old Joe Martinez Jr., remained in custody today at the Arlington City Jail in lieu of $500,000 bond. The Tarrant County district attorney's office today was expected to formally charge Wilson with capital murder.

If convicted on the charge, Wilson faces the death penalty or life imprisonment.

Until about a month ago, Wilson lived with his 41-year-old mother and a teen-age sister at Arlington Village apartments. He was a frequent visitor to the Rhodes' apartment.

Toni Rhodes said Wilson sometimes came over to watch television with Martinez. Still, when police questioned her about possible suspects, she said Wilson's name never came to mind.

Wilson was arrested early Wednesday at the Royal Oaks apartments complex on Haley Street in Irving.
Suspect kept low profile

By DAVID LEARY
Daily News Staff

A 21-year-old man accused of killing a Arlington girl apparently kept a low profile at the Irving apartment complex where he was living with his sister at the time of his arrest Wednesday.

Residents interviewed at Irving's Royal Oaks apartments denied knowing Jackie Barron Wilson, who was picked up at the complex by Arlington police at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday on a felony theft warrant out of Lubbock County.

Shortly before noon Wednesday, he was arrested formally on a capital murder warrant in the death of Lottie Margaret "Maggie" Rhodes.

The 5-year-old girl was abducted from her Arlington apartment Nov. 30. Her body later was found by a truck driver on Oakdale Road in Grand Prairie, about a quarter-mile west of the Irving city limits.

The manager of Royal Oaks, a 122-unit complex at 500 S. Haley St., said the apartment was not leased to Wilson.

"I have never seen him," said the manager, who did not want her name used. "I wouldn't know him if he walked in the door."

a.m. Wednesday by her mother, Toni Rhodes, 23.
Martinez told detectives he came home at 2 a.m. and, before going to bed on a couch, he checked and found Maggie Rhodes and her 3-year-old brother, Tony, sleeping soundly in their bedroom.
The girl apparently was snatched from the bedroom while her brother slept in a bed in the same room. No one in the apartment or in any of the adjacent apartments heard any noises, police said.

The bedroom window is about 15 feet from a gate that leads from a small compound into a vacant lot west of the complex. One large shard of glass and several smaller pieces lay on the grass outside the window. Glass also was inside the bedroom.

It did not appear that anyone entered the bedroom, but merely reached inside and pulled the girl from her bed beneath the window, Anderson said.

Police found footprints beneath the window and were expected to make plaster casts of them today, Anderson said.

The girl's body was found by a truck driver about 7 a.m. Wednesday lying face down alongside Oakdale.

She was wearing panties and a sleeper shirt, possibly pajamas. Grand Prairie police Sgt. Mike Sneed said.

The truck driver, an employee of Jones Trucking Co., located about a mile from where the body was found, told his co-workers he thought he had hit something in the road early Wednesday, Anderson said.

At daybreak, the man and several others conducted a search and found the girl dead, Anderson said.

Police were examining blood and body tissue removed from the undercarriage of the truck, but the evidence had not been identified as human flesh, Anderson said.

Investigators also were checking on a blue pickup with a flat tire that was parked at a nearby convenience store. A store employee told police the driver pulled into the store, abandoned the truck and walked away, Anderson said.

"It may not even be related," Anderson said of the truck, "but it's too close to the scene and too close to the time frame to be ignored."

Maggie Rhodes had been abducted and molested in June 1987. Anderson said the girl was abducted by a man on the parking lot of the complex and released about an hour later at Tharp and Collins streets.
Dead girl was kidnapped, Arlington investigators say

By DAVID LEARY
Daily News Staff

Police today identified no suspects in the abduction and slaying of a 5-year-old Arlington girl whose body was found Wednesday in north Grand Prairie, near the Irving city limits.

Lottie Margaret "Maggie" Rhodes, a kindergartner student, was plucked from her apartment early Wednesday and found dead about 7 a.m. alongside Oakdale Road in Grand Prairie, about a quarter-mile west of Belt Line Road, police said.

An autopsy revealed that she had been sexually assaulted, said Arlington police spokesman Dee Anderson.

The girl's death — ruled a homicide — resulted from "asphyxia and crush-force injuries of the head," but coroners had not determined how she was killed, said Don Kirby, assistant chief field agent at the medical examiner's office.

Anderson said the girl was abducted from her bedroom in apartment No. 14 at the Arlington Village complex, 2215 Harriet St. She apparently was asleep when someone broke a window above her bed and grabbed her, he said.

Described by friends and neighbors as a vivacious, outgoing young girl, Maggie Rhodes disappeared sometime overnight Wednesday, probably during the early morning hours, police said.

The girl had been picked up by a man and sexually molested last year. No arrest was made in that case, police said.

Officers arrested an 18-year-old live-in baby sitter, Joe Martinez Jr., on outstanding Dallas traffic warrants and marijuana possession Wednesday. He was being questioned in connection with Maggie Rhodes' disappearance, but Anderson stressed that the questioning was routine and that Martinez was not considered a suspect.

The girl was discovered missing shortly after 8

Irving man, 29, killed in crash

By GENE ABRAHAMSON
Daily News Staff

A 29-year-old Irving man died Monday after his car collided head-on with a truck on Interstate 30.

The Dallas County medical examiner has made a preliminary ruling that Adrian Glenn Robinson of 2000 Estrada Parkway was trying to commit suicide when he made a U-turn on eastbound I-30 and began driving his 1979 Pontiac Grand Prix west. Robinson’s car slammed into a 1987 GMC Suburban driven by Harvey Pack, 42, of Arlington, just east of Belt Line Road at about 11 a.m.

Pack was listed in serious condition this morning in the intensive care unit at Methodist Central Hospital in Dallas.

Grand Prairie police officer John Rushing, who investigated the accident, contacted Robinson’s employer and friends and learned the newspaper deliveryman had been suffering from depression.

“Several people told me he had been severely depressed for about the last year,” Rushing said. “They told me he had gone through a divorce and a job loss. In the last three or four days, he had really gone off the deep end. He told people he was Jesus Christ and he said Jesus Christ was coming on Halloween.”
