While Irving police are investigating a motorcycle fatality that occurred Sunday, Dallas police are investigating a Monday night motorcycle accident which left an Irving man dead.

Joel Rener, 37, was killed at 11:25 p.m. Monday when he lost control of his 1986 Suzuki in the 2700 block of Irving Boulevard in Dallas, police said.

Rener was going north at a high rate of speed, when his motorcycle hit a curb, jumped it and crashed into a utility pole, Dallas Detective Elizabeth Cotner said.

Rener was wearing a helmet, but his head hit the curb, cracking the helmet, Cotner said.

The impact caused massive head injuries and broke his neck, she said. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

In an unrelated accident Sunday, Billy Wayne Dobbs, 20, was killed when he hit a 1988 Isuzu Trooper, which pulled out in front of him, Irving traffic Sgt. Michael Christy said.

Dobbs was driving his 1988 Suzuki south in the 2200 block of MacArthur Boulevard at 9:41 p.m. As he approached the Sea Isle Drive intersection, the 58-year-old Dallas driver of the Trooper pulled out in front of him, Christy said.

Dobbs was taken to Parkland Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 10:30 p.m. He was wearing a helmet, but was killed from the force of the impact, Christy said.

The driver of the Trooper hurt his arm in the accident. Police are still investigating to determine if the driver of the Trooper failed to yield the right of way, police said.

Dobbs' death is the 12th traffic fatality in Irving this year. It is the third motorcycle fatality in the city, and the first in which the victim was wearing a helmet.
