Hartweck, active in MDA, dies

Daniel Dewayne Hartweck was afflicted with muscular dystrophy — but he didn’t let the disease deter him from working to promote the MDA cause.

On Tuesday, Hartweck died, at the age of 22, after a life that although short in tenure, was filled with volunteer activities on behalf of the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

According to family members, he was diagnosed with muscular dystrophy when he was 3, confined to a wheelchair at the age of 8, and totally handicapped since the age of 11.

Nevertheless, he served as spokesperson in several counties in this area for many MDA fund-raising activities, including the Jerry Lewis telethon at Six Flags and an Irving Fire Department “boot” campaign.

A native of Evansville, Ind., he graduated from Irving High School in May 1987, and afterwards returned there for a short time to tutor students. But his health did not permit that activity for very long, his family said.

He is survived by his parents, Ron and Ann Hartweck of Irving; five brothers, Ronnie Hartweck and Mark Hartweck, both of Dallas, Tim Hartweck, David Hartweck and John Hartweck, all of Irving; seven sisters, Vicki Driskell, Judy Embry, Karen Lopez, Maria Malin, Kelly Hartweck, Ginny Hartweck and Juanita Hartweck; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hartweck of Tell City, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stroud of Evansville, Ind.; and 29 nieces and nephews.
