Murder suspect arrested by police

A 23-year-old Watauga man suspected of shooting to death a 42-year-old Dallas man on Christmas Day was arrested at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday, Irving police said.

Police said the suspect was a "known associate" of Fernando Montes, who was found dead Dec. 25 in his car at County Line Road and State Highway 183. Montes had been shot in the head.

Police began closing in on the suspect Jan. 17 when, acting on a search warrant, they seized evidence from his home that linked him to the shooting, reports said. The evidence was sent to the crime laboratory and, after testing proved the link further, the man was arrested, police said.

The suspect is being held in the Irving City Jail, with a murder charge pending, police said.
