Information in Woman's Slaying

Staci Terrell, 21, and her mother were found dead in a Dallas County apartment on Nov. 21. The murder, the first of its kind in the city in 1989, stunned the community.

The woman, whose body was found in the apartment, was identified as Staci Terrell. Authorities said she was known to police for prostitution and drug possession.

According to the Dallas Morning News, the woman was shot in the head and later died of her injuries. The murder was ruled a homicide.

Another victim, a woman named Lisa, was found dead in a nearby apartment. Authorities said she was also known to police for prostitution.

The murder sparked a major investigation by the Dallas Police Department, which announced a $1,000 reward for information leading to an arrest.

The case remains unsolved, but police said they were making progress in the investigation.
Body of FW woman found

A Fort Worth woman was found fatally shot on the ground behind an Irving retirement community by a woman who was walking her dog early Tuesday morning.

The 25-year-old woman suffered a single gunshot wound to the head and had been dumped on the ground behind the parking lot of the Park Manor Apartments, located in the 2900 block of W. Pioneer Drive. Police are not releasing her name because her relatives have not yet been notified.

"We haven't found any of her relatives yet," said David Tull, public information officer with the Irving Police Department. "We know she lived in Fort Worth, but we're still trying to determine if that was her last residence."

According to IPD Lt. Sid Fuller,

Homicide: No case leads yet

the woman has a criminal history, but declined to be specific. Fuller described the woman as a transient — often living off the streets. She did not have ties to a particular community, he said.

A resident of a nearby neighborhood was walking her dog at 6:45 a.m. when she found the victim's body in the grass. Wyche Park is located nearby, Tull said.

Police declined to comment on whether the woman was clothed when she was found dead and would not elaborate on her condition. Fuller said, though, she had not been beaten.

Both police and the Dallas County Medical Examiner's Office are ruling her death a homicide; however, police do not have any leads at this time, Fuller said.

"At this time, we have no idea who the suspect is, why she was killed or where she was murdered," Fuller said.

Police do believe she was killed sometime during the night — between midnight and the time she was found, Fuller said. They do not believe the woman was associated with the nearby apartment complex. Fuller said she was just "dumped" there.

So far, there are no witnesses, Fuller said.

The woman was found with no identification on her, and police identified her through fingerprints, Fuller said.

Investigators ask that anyone having information please call the IPD's Criminal Investigation Division at 721-3515.

The woman found fatally shot in the head behind an Irving retirement community near Wyche Park Tuesday has been identified by police as 25-year-old Staci Terrell of Dallas.

Police originally thought the woman had resided in Fort Worth, but because she apparently was a transient, they had difficulty pinpointing her last residence.

Facing many unanswered questions in the case, police are asking anyone with information to call the Irving Police Department's Criminal Investigation Division at 721-3515.

According to authorities, Terrell was found at 6:45 a.m. lying in a grass area behind the parking lot of the Park Manor Apartments, located in the 2900 block of West Pioneer Drive, by a woman from a nearby neighborhood who was

Recipient of community relief effort, Shirley Toombs, dies

Shirley Ann Toombs, whose string of recent misfortunes led to an organized community relief effort on her family's behalf, died Thursday, March 2, at her home.

Shirley Toombs was diagnosed with terminal cancer in June. She was the only wage earner in her family but was forced to stop working. Her husband, David, suffers from epileptic seizures.

Since the diagnosis, the Toombs have struggled to deal with a deteriorating housing situation and mounting financial burdens. Their home — which has been in Shirley's family's for generations — is rapidly deteriorating.

But disability benefits have been the family's sole source of income.

Debra Kitchens, a family friend, organized efforts in recent months to steer help — monetary and material donations as well as volunteer aid to make much-needed repairs to the house — in the Toombs' direction.

Recently, she rallied several local organizations to donate time and useful materials toward improving the condition of the Toombs' home.

Kitchens plans to continue those efforts, because that is what Shirley Toombs would have wanted, she said.

"She didn't get to see it happen (her home repaired), but she knew we were working on it and she already was really happy with what we had done," Kitchens said.

She praised her long-time friend for a lifetime of service to others.

"She always did a lot of volunteer work — Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, PTA and probably in her church, too. She always gave of herself," Kitchens said.

Mrs. Toombs was born Jan. 12, 1947, in Dallas. She was employed as a clerk with L&M Grocery. During her years of service with the Scouts, she was the recipient of the Boy Scout Award of Merit and Distinguished Commissioner Award, and served as Cub Scout coach and den leader Girl Scout commissioner, leader and PTA president.

She is survived by her husband, David Toombs; children, Joy Toombs and David Toombs Jr.; mother, Annie Hutchins; and sisters, Carolyn Page, Linda Murphy, Bobbie J. Shavers and Debbie Boggess, all of Irving.

Funeral services will begin at 10 a.m. Monday, March 6, at The Tabernacle, with the Rev. Al Fisher officiating. Burial will follow at Oak Grove Memorial Gardens, under the direction of Brown's Memorial Funeral Home.

Kitchens has initiated a trust fund in the Toombs' name. Donations may be sent to the David and Shirley Toombs Trust Fund, c/o NationsBank, Irving.
