Crash: Firey collision claims two teen lives

"The indications are that the truck tried to stop," Tull said. "We found skid marks."

Upon impact, the car burst into flames, according to police.

Police are not sure of the cause of the two men's death.

"We don't know whether they died from the impact of the accident, or it was the fire that killed them," Tull said.

Martinez, Ramirez Sr. and Ramirez Jr. were successfully helped away from the car by passing motorists who also attempted to extinguish the fire, Tull said. Police are trying to identify and locate those passing motorists, he said.

Police also are unsure who was driving the vehicle, and where the rest of the men were sitting.

"We haven't gotten that nailed down yet," Tull said. "Things were too jumbled to tell."

Ramirez Sr. and Ramirez Jr. are father and son, Tull said, and Miguel Ramirez, who died at the scene, was the brother of the elder Ramirez.

Irving police closed southbound Loop 12 and all southbound lanes remained closed from Spur 348 to State Highway 183 until 9:45 p.m., when one lane was re-opened, Tull said. Because of the diesel fuel and wreckage cleanup, the other two lanes were closed until about 11:30 p.m., he said.
Two killed in trailer-car crash

By LIZABETH CARDENAS

Two 18-year-old Dallas men were killed Monday afternoon when a tractor-trailer ran over the car both men were traveling in on State Loop 12.

Miguel Ramirez and Ronnie Townsend died at the scene of the accident. George Martinez, 18, Vicenio Ramirez Sr., 24, and Vicenio Ramirez Jr., 2, who were also from Dallas and inside the car, survived the crash.

The two-year-old was taken to Children’s Medical Hospital and released shortly thereafter. The other two men were taken to Parkland Memorial Hospital. Martinez was listed in good condition Wednesday and Ramirez Sr. was listed in fair condition.

According to police, the four men and one child were inside the two-door Chevrolet Cavalier traveling southbound on Loop 12 on the overpass above State Highway 114 at 4:25 p.m. when a tractor-trailer struck the back of the car and then ran over it. The two people in the tractor-trailer, which was from Ohio, were not injured, police said.

“The car was in the shoulder area of the road, but we’re not sure whether it already stopped or was slowing down to stop when the truck hit it,” said David Tull, public information officer with the Irving Police Department. “When the truck hit the back of the car, it pushed the car into the concrete overpass wall on the right side. Then the truck ran over the car.”

Police officials said they are trying to determine whether the car was pulling over to the side of the road or had already done so.

“If the car had stopped, that indicates one thing,” Tull said. “But if the car was still in the lane and slowing down, it could indicate something else. There are still a lot of variables we need to nail down.”

Police believe the tractor-trailer attempted to stop.

Driver ✓ charged in fatal accident

By LIZAETH CARDENAS
News Staff Writer

Charges of intoxication manslaughter are pending against the Dallas driver of pickup truck who crashed into a light pole in Irving early Friday morning, killing a passenger.

Irving police believe speed and alcohol may have been factors in the death of a Roy Richardson, a 44-year-old Mesquite man, and the serious injury to the driver, 19-year-old Joseph Borchardt of Dallas.

Richardson, the only passenger in the vehicle, died in Parkland Memorial Hospital at 4:45 a.m. Friday from injuries received in the crash.

Borchardt, the driver of the 1988 Chevrolet pickup, was listed in fair condition Tuesday at Parkland. Borchardt is "going to make it," said IPD accident investigator Tray Whitworth. Borchardt had been listed in critical condition Friday, when he was brought into the hospital.

According to Irving police, the men were traveling northbound in the 3000 block of North Belt Line Road at 4 a.m. when Borchardt failed to control his speed, lost control of the vehicle and struck an overhead signal light pole on the northeast corner of Belt Line Road and Rochelle Road.

and Rochelle Road.

Although the truck hit the pole at full force, neither Borchardt nor Richardson were thrown from the vehicle, Whitworth said. Police said they have been unable to determine if the men were wearing seat belts.

Police are conducting an investigation to determine exactly how the accident happened.

“We think the speed the truck was traveling and alcohol consumption on the part of the driver were contributing factors in the accident,” Whitworth said.

However, officers are waiting on the test results.

“Blood samples have been sent off to the lab, and we’re waiting for the results to come back,” said Officer Rhonda Wolf. It could take as long as three weeks for lab tests to determine Borchardt’s blood-alcohol level, at which time police will decide what charges, if any, are warranted.

According to reports, there were no other vehicles involved, and there were no witnesses, Wolf said.

“A clerk at 7-Eleven, which was located near the scene of the accident, heard the noise, saw the wreck and then called police,” Wolf said.

Wolf said specific details surrounding the accident still are being gathered. She said Irving police officers got a late start in getting a statement from Borchardt, since he was in critical condition following the accident. Wolf said police are still determining the relationship between Borchardt and Richardson.

the apartments in the complex,” said David Tull, public information officer with the Irving Police Department. “We are currently trying to determine whose apartment it is and why he (Rubio) went there.”

According to Tull, Rubio did not live at the Spanish Trace Apartments, and he had not entered the apartment he was in front of when police found him.

Although the investigation is continuing, early indications are that Rubio and another man had an argument in the parking lot, Tull said. When the argument escalated Rubio was shot and then the other man fled the scene prior to police arrival, he said.

Police declined to comment on whether detectives have any specific suspects in mind.

“We’re in the midst of the investigation, and we’re talking to people in the area,” Tull said. “All I can say is we’re trying to make a determination about suspect information.”

Police would not comment on whether anyone witnessed the shooting except that detectives were currently gathering any possible witnesses.

“We’re in the process of talking to numerous people who were in the area at the time,” Tull said.

Police received information on the shooting from a 911 call by a resident in the apartment complex, he said.

Tull said detectives are still gathering information to determine who the shooter was and his relationship to Rubio, as well as what the argument was about.

Officers did not recover the murder weapon at the scene, but Tull said Rubio was shot by an unknown caliber handgun.
