One-car accident kills man

Louisiana man ejected from vehicle on SH-183

By STEPHEN TERRY
News Staff Writer

A Louisiana man died from injuries suffered when a collision ejected him from his vehicle Sunday after apparently falling asleep while driving in the 3600 block of State Highway 183.

According to police, James Hill of Anacoco, La.; was westbound on SH-183 just east of Belt Line Road in Irving about 10:45 p.m. when he apparently fell asleep behind the wheel and veered off the roadway. Hill, 62, hit the guardrail on the outside shoulder, causing his vehicle to overturn.

"All indications are that he fell asleep while he was driving," said David Tull, Irving police department public information officer.

Hill, who was not wearing a seat belt, was ejected from his black 1995 Isuzu truck. He was transported to Parkland Memorial Hospital, where he died from injuries suffered from the accident.

Tull said the accident shows how vital it is for motorists to be "well rested" before driving.

"You need to make sure you are well rested before you take a long or short trip," he said. "We have had incidents where people have dozed off just going from home to work. If you are taking a long trip and get tired or fatigued, you need to make frequent rest stops or just pull over and get a soft drink. You can even just stop and walk around the car."

Tull said the accident also emphasizes the importance of wearing a safety belt while traveling.

"Not knowing all the details (of this accident), it always is advisable to wear seat belts," Tull said. "Anytime there is a roll-over (accident), that is what we fear the most — someone being ejected from the vehicle."

"There have been cases where, if people would have remained in the car, the injuries they suffered would not have been so severe. Wear your seat belts. We can't say that enough."

Sunday's one-car accident was Irving's sixth fatality accident of the year. Last Thursday, Irving resident John Tebong, 40, was fatally injured when he was struck by a 1998 Ford Mustang while attempting to exchange information with another driver about an earlier collision.
