Tuesday accident claims two teens

By STEPHEN TERRY

News Staff Writer

A single-vehicle accident Tuesday on State Highway 183 claimed the lives of two Irving teen-agers, while three others were transported to Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas.

Irving residents Heidi Jorgensen, 17, and James Watson III, 16, suffered fatal injuries during the accident. Three passengers, Macy Sharp, 16, Carl Gill, 18, and 17-year-old Doug Craig were taken to the Dallas hospital by ambulance.

At 9:15 p.m. police responded to an accident eastbound on S.H. 183 just west of Beltline Road. The vehicle, a four-door Toyota Camry, was traveling eastbound when the driver lost control and veered off the right shoulder of the roadway striking a pole, police reports stated.

As of presstime early Wednesday morning, hospital officials said Gill was listed in stable condition, Craig was in critical condition while Sharp was listed in serious condition.

"For some reason, the vehicle went out of control and struck a heavy-duty sign post," said David Tull, Irving police public information officer.

Irving school district records indicate Jorgensen was a sophomore at Union Bower Center for Learning. There was no computer record of Watson in the district files. District records indicate that Craig and Gill both withdrew from Union Bower. Sharp was a junior at Irving High School.
