Rites set for Rev. Robert Key

By Joe Simmacher
Staff Writer

Graveside services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Sowers Cemetery, on Pioneer Drive just east of Belt Line Road in Irving, for the Rev. Robert John Key, who founded the Union Gospel Mission and the Dallas Rescue Mission.

Mr. Key, 82, died Sunday of complications from heart disease at Baylor Medical Center in Irving.

Born in Lawson, Texas, Mr. Key moved with his family to Dallas, where he graduated from high school. He began working at Sanger Brothers department store to help support his family when his father lost his job. On his lunch breaks, Mr. Key preached and handed out Scriptures at Elm Street and Stone Place in downtown Dallas.

“He was just called by the Lord to be a minister,” said his wife, Alys Marie, who met her husband at Sanger Brothers, where she also worked.

In 1949, Mr. Key felt a calling to open a mission, his wife said. “He came home and said, ‘Honey, I gave up my job at Sanger Brothers,’ ” she said. “He didn’t know exactly how to start out, other than reading his Bible. He learned all his Scriptures by heart.”

That year, the couple opened the Union Gospel Mission on Pacific Avenue in downtown Dallas, and Ms. Key cooked for the soup kitchen.

Homeless men would come to eat and listen to Mr. Key’s sermon, Ms. Key said. “We’d give them a chance to come to the altar and accept the Lord,” she said.

In 1954, the couple left the Union Gospel Mission after a disagreement with the board of directors, Ms. Key said. That same year, they opened the Dallas Rescue Mission with the last $25 they had. Within three months, the new mission moved to a larger location with the support of 30 Dallas churches. The Dallas Rescue Mission is now part of the Dallas Life Foundation.

“The Lord just blessed us through the churches,” Ms. Key said.

The couple and their two children also had a radio program on KSKY-AM (660) for 18 years.

The couple retired in 1980 because of Mr. Key’s growing health problems.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Key is survived by two daughters, Marie Ann Bamberg and Patricia Ingram, both of Irving; a sister, Evelyn Banhardt of Waxahachie; one grandchild; and one great-grandchild.

Memorials may be made to Urban Independent Methodist Church, 6019 Hollis St., Dallas, TX 75227.
