Man killed in shooting at house party

By NORA KOCH
Staff Writer

IRVING — An 18-year-old man was killed at an Irving house party early Saturday after an argument led to gunfire, police said.

Stephen Anthony Perez was shot about 12:20 a.m. in a front yard in the 1700 block of Gilbreath Circle. The Irving man was transported to Parkland hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

A second, unidentified shooting victim, a 21-year-old man, was taken to Baylor University Medical Center for surgery to remove a bullet from his shoulder.

A third man, Steven Dorrell, 20, of Irving was found injured at the location, but police said they don’t know whether his injuries are related to the shooting.

Police have a 17-year-old suspect from Irving in custody at Irving City Jail.

Police did not disclose the relationship between the suspect and victims.

Next-door neighbor Garwin Disher said that although the party seemed quiet, a sizable crowd had gathered, with cars lining both sides of the street.

He said that after a loud argument spilled into the front yard, he went outside and heard two gunshots.

The family living in the house where the shooting occurred is not known for raucous parties, said Joe Castille, who lives two houses from the site of the shooting. The teenage hosts had told neighbors they planned to have a party.

Their parents were out of town, and the remaining residents had had a few parties in the last few days, neighbors said.
