Jolly, Mary Marie

Jolly, MARY MARIE, formerly Taylor, of Irving, died Nov. 28, 2004. Born Nov. 18, 1919 in Texarkana, Arkansas, Jolly grew up in Texarkana. She was a member of the Plymouth Park Baptist Church in Irving where she had previously sung in the church choir and been active in Sunday school. She courageously battled crippling arthritis for a number of years before her death. She was lovingly assisted by her beloved neighbors, Laura and Billie Mays, and by their family who provided love and assistance to her in so many ways. Jolly is survived by two daughters, Vicki T. Boutwell and husband James of Irving, and Sherri A. Taylor of Syracuse, New York. She is also survived by a sister, Lucille Stone of Ashdown, Arkansas and nieces Judy Priest of Texarkana, Ann Foley of Greenville, Paye Armstrong of Dallas and nephew Odell Priest of Ashdown. Jolly served as a recruiter for the Women's Army Corps during World War II where she met her first husband, Robert E. Taylor. She later married W.D. (Dub) Jolly and lived in Texarkana before moving back to Irving. In Texarkana, she served as a hospital volunteer at St. Michael's Hospital. After the war, Jolly worked as a reservationist for American Airlines in Washington, D.C. She and her husband moved to Irving, Texas in 1955. She began a career in retail sales, and retired from the former Sanger-Harris (now Foley's) where she worked as a sales associate for a number of years. She was recognized as a Sanger-Harris Employee of the Year. She loved gardening and yardwork, spending many hours tending to plants and flowers where her yard became a place of beauty and splendor. She also loved animals, and drew great comfort from her cat, Pepper, after she became homebound. She was optimistic throughout her struggle with arthritis and always looked on the bright side of life, fighting to the end. She will be lovingly remembered by her many friends and relatives for her joy and friendship she provided. Funeral services were held 1:00 PM Thursday December 2, 2004 at Brown's Memorial Chapel. Interment followed at DFW National Cemetery.
