Colter Dean Bright, a 2007 graduate of Marcus High School, was found dead Thursday morning in College Station.

Bright, 20, played on the Marcus baseball team, where he was an all-district outfielder in 2007.

According to police reports, the College Station fire and police departments responded to a call at 7:30 a.m. and found Bright unconscious and not breathing. Fire officials performed CPR before transporting him to College Station Medical Center, where he died at 12:30 p.m.

"There were no outward signs of trauma as far as foul play," said Lt. Rodney Sigler of the College Station Police Department. "There was nothing apparent, but we still don't know what happened. Now it's just a matter of getting the autopsy, so we're waiting on that."

Sigler said there was also an arrest made at the location on a charge of marijuana possession but said it's unclear whether the marijuana possession and Bright's death are related.

"We don't know how he died or anything leading up to it," Sigler said.

The incident has been turned over to the Criminal Investigations Division for further investigation.
