Arthur Williams
1929-2009

Art Williams, a longtime resident of Irving, died peacefully on March 1 after spending his final days with his children and close family members. He was born May 7, 1929, the son of Arthur H. and Bessie Williams of Mingo Junction, Ohio.

He grew up in Mingo and worked briefly in a steel mill and on the railroad before joining the Air Force in 1949. Art was a great soldier and rose to the rank of Tech Sergeant in his four years of service. He was a radio operator on a B-29 bomber and his crew was one of the elite crews chosen to carry nuclear weapons. After his military service, he attended Ohio University and, with the help of the GI Bill and his accumulated savings from the service, he put himself through college and graduated with a business degree in 1958.

He started his career at L.B.M. as a salesman. By 1960, he was pursuing a career in financial planning and wealth management. He earned several professional credentials, including Certified Financial Planner, Chartered Life Underwriter and Chartered Financial Consultant. He enjoyed his career and was proud to have worked in the financial industry for 38 years. He offered a "no-questions-asked refund." (Continued on page 3.)

To any client who was dissatisfied with his services, and the fact he was never asked for a refund is a testament to his expertise and integrity.

Art moved to Irving in 1983 from Dayton, Ohio. He was a proud member of the Irving community, and never missed a chance to tell people about Irving and what a great place it was to live. He enjoyed participating in civic and social activities and had many friends and acquaintances in the area. He was a member of the Irving Rotary Club and the Las Colinas Country Club and was a regular participant at the Wednesday morning Henry Holmes discussion group. Art was a voracious reader and always strove for excellence in everything he did. He enjoyed and appreciated beauty in all areas, but especially clothes, art, architecture, home decor, nature, and members of the opposite sex. Art gave back to his community in many ways, even after he became ill. He wrote a three-part series published in The Irving Journal about end of life issues, wanting to help people focus on difficult matters and be better prepared to face them. He handled his own illness and the end of his life with the same dignity and class with which he led his life.

Art is survived by his three sons, Jeffrey of Cleveland, Ohio, Andrew of Verona, New Jersey, and Steven of Oklahoma City; grandchildren Claire Williams of Columbus, Ohio, Talia Williams of Verona, New Jersey, and Margaret Olivia Williams of Cleveland, Ohio. Art is also survived by two sisters, Maizelle Dunlap of Fort Worth and Ruth Harris of Hurst, four nieces and a nephew. His family is especially grateful to his niece, Charla, and granddaughter, Madyson, who were very loving and attentive to him.

There will be a memorial service celebrating Art's life at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, March 27, 2009 in the Calvary Church Chapel.
Calvary Church is located at 4401 N Hwy 161 at Walnut Hill Lane, Irving, TX 75038.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to the Lyric Stage, Irving Symphony Orchestra Association or the Irving Healthcare Foundation.

Victims' names released in Fannin County plane crash

Bonham, TX—The Fannin County Sheriff's office tells KXII two people are dead after a plane crash just north of Bonham Saturday morning. Texas DPS says 59-year-old Linda Wingo, of Leonard, TX and 57-year-old William Pearson died at the scene.

According to a spokesperson for the F.A.A., the hand-built aircraft took off from the Jones Field Airport in Bonham around 8:00 Saturday morning. The F.A.A. tells KXII witnesses reported that the engine had died shortly after take off and the pilot had to restart it at least once. The plane crashed behind a home on Highway 78 North. A Fannin County man says he had just started his morning routine when the plane fell out of the sky across the street from his home.

"This morning I let my dogs out and I heard this motor fire up right over the house. And the airplane motor died and then fired back up and then died again. I ran out front to see...You could tell it had distress. I didn't see where it landed. One minute later I could see where the smoke was here and I ran over here and the cab was fully engulfed and I couldn't get the pilot out and then I realized there was two people in the plane so other than that there wasn't much I could do," said Kyle Smith, a Fannin County resident who lives near the crash site.

The NTSB and local authorities are investigating the crash to determine an official cause.
