Dorothy A. Koutnik

Obituary

Koutnik, born February 4, 1916 in Chicago, Illinois and passed away December 7, 2010 in Dallas, Texas. Survived by daughter, Diane K. Neel; granddaughter, Cynthia S. Whisennand. A memorial service will be held 11:00 a.m. Monday, December 13, 2010 at East Dallas Christian Church, Dallas, Texas. Dorothy King Koutnik was born in Chicago, IL on February 4, 1916 and died December 7, 2010 in Dallas, TX. She is survived by her daughter, Diane Neel; granddaughters Cynthia Whisennand and Sylvia Neel and great-grandson Matthew Whisennand.

She grew up in Chicago, participating in Job’s Daughters and the Campfire Girls. After graduating from high school, she worked in her father’s law office, was a real estate broker, attended law school, worked as a newspaper reporter, and in a munitions plant during World War II. She moved to Dallas with her husband Harold Koutnik in 1947, and settled into her East Dallas home in 1949, where she lived for the rest of her life.

Her family and its history were very important to her; while her family tree was as varied as most Americans, she was proudest of her British heritage, descending from King Edward II Plantagenet and Admiral Lord Nelson, amongst others. She would often tell of her father’s experiences during Queen Victoria’s Golden Jubilee before he came to America and could trace her lineage back beyond Charlemagne.

She considered herself a writer, penning many editorials for the Dallas newspapers, publishing poems, and sending off yet another draft of a book she though covered the history and important points that were being missed. She loved music and spent many hours playing her favorites on the piano. While she was mostly a ‘homebody’ once in Dallas, she volunteered as a tutor at Crockett Elementary School when asked, and traveled to England on the Queen Elizabeth II ocean liner in 1979 with Cindy, touring her ‘home country’ a dream of hers since childhood.

Her memorial service will be 11 o’clock AM at East Dallas Christian Church, 629 N Peak Street, Dallas, TX.
