Jane Welch Schlehr
Jane Welch Schlehr, 90, of Irving, Texas, passed away on November 7, 2010 at her daughter’s home in Denton, Texas, surrounded by her loving family. She was born in 1920 in Kentucky and spent most of her childhood in Ohio. The daughter of the late Reverend Harry Houcans Welch and the late Cornelia Cynthia Welch, Jane was the oldest of five siblings. She sang and played piano for her father’s church. She studied nutrition at Mars Hill College in North Carolina and then started her career in medical technology at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville, Tennessee. Jane was a certified medical technologist and worked as a bacteriologist, hematologist, and an infection control specialist for both the public and the private sectors. She did neurological research at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland and was on staff at private labs and several metropolitan area hospitals, such as Methodist, Wadley Blood Bank, and Irving Hospital. She married Arthur James Edwards on February 29, 1948. They had six children together and lived in Bel Air, Maryland. They divorced in 1968 and Jane then moved to Irving, Texas and married George Schlehr in 1969. She fulfilled a lifelong dream when she graduated from Dallas Baptist College in 1981 with a bachelor’s degree in career arts. Jane was an active member of MacArthur Boulevard Baptist Church and pioneered their home-bound ministry, taking the bouquets she made of the alter displays to seniors. She also sang in the choir, supported missionary families, and worked with children. Jane was a Mall-Walker who had clocked in the tens of thousands of miles. When she was 64, she was seriously injured in an automobile accident which left her immobilized by multiple pelvic fractures. Her doctor warned her that she might not ever walk again. Despite this, she learned to walk after five months of recovery and went on to win races in her age group. Jane continued walking into her eighties. Jane was preceded in death by her husband, George; her son, Robert Heading, and an infant son, her brothers, Edwin and Truett, and her sister, Iris. Beloved sister, mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother, Jane is survived by her children, Lyle (Lilac) Bauer of Austin, Texas, Trudy Scola of Sleepy Hollow, Illinois, Arthur James Edwards, Jr. of Herndon, Virginia, Martha (Mafa) Jane Edwards of New York City, Ruth Kimbrough of Denton, Texas, and Susan Welch Edwards of Boyd, Texas, her sixteen grandchildren, her six great-grandchildren, and her siblings, Bobbie Annette Gibson of California and James McKee Welch of Washington State. Her family welcomes floral gifts of flowering bulbs that can be replanted or contributions to the American Bible Society. The memorial service will be held 12:30 p.m., Friday, November 19 at MacArthur Blvd. Baptist Church, 8001 Mustang Drive, Irving. Arrangements by Donnelly’s Colonial Funeral Home.
Eleanor Rebecca Fletcher Schram died Sunday June 20, 2010 at her home after succumbing to Alzheimer's Disease. She was surrounded by her family and friends. Eleanor graduated from Arkansas A & M University with a Bachelor's Degree in English and pursued a Master's degree in Voice at the University of Texas at Austin. It was there that she met and married her husband, Alfred. They had been married 53 years at the time of her death. Eleanor lived 30 years in Canyon, Texas where she worked first as a homemaker, then as an archivist at Cornell Library on the West Texas A & M University campus. They retired to Irving, Texas in 1995, where she and Alfred lived on Vilbig Lake. This allowed them to be close to their two children and four grandchildren. Eleanor is remembered as a devoted wife, loving mother, gifted singer with a beautiful voice which stayed with her almost to the day she died, an avid reader, devotee of the arts, an enforcer of diagramming sentences, a lover of all things irreverent and funny, and a great enjoyer of a mimosa at Sunday brunch. She will be missed by us all and remembered for too many good things to count. Eleanor is survived by her husband, Alfred Schram; two children, Gwynne Schram and Howard Schram; four grandchildren, Reuben Garrett, Noah Garrett, Amanda Schram, and Tiffany Schram. In lieu of gifts or flowers, the family asks that any memorials be made to the pursuit of a cure for Alzheimer's Disease: Alzheimer's Foundation, 322 Eighth Avenue, 7th Floor, New York, NY 10001, or online: http://www.alzfdn.org.
Stephen Schuster IV

Schuster IV, Stephen William LEWISVILLE -- Stephen William Schuster IV, 68, "Doctorate in History" left this world in the early morning of Thursday, Sept. 23, 2010. Funeral: 3:30 p.m. Saturday in Greenwood Chapel Interment: Oakwood Cemetery. Visitation: 6 to 8 p.m. Friday at Greenwood Funeral Home. After completing his Bachelor of Arts at Texas Christian University, and Master of Arts in Geography at the University of Utah, he then completed both a second masters and PhD at Texas Christian University. Steve went on to teach college American History for over 40 years. In 1978, the Dallas Community College District opened a new campus named Brookhaven, and Dr. Schuster was part of the first faculty. Although he taught geography as well, it was in History 101 that he made his indelible mark. His "Gore Lecture", as it became not so affectionately but aptly named, detailed the sacrifice rituals of native Central Americans, in great and agonizing detail. Everyone that had Dr. Schuster for freshman history remembers that lecture above all others, his wife and son inclusive. In his private time one could say Steve was a hobbyist, one could also say he was an obsessive. As a Master Printer Steve worked on many projects to include "When Dallas Became a City" by Dallas Historical Society, as well as many others. Later Steve became, what local news stations called, a Firearms Expert. He taught classes in personal protection and concealed carry licensor. He created and tested ammunition reloads to his specifications. It could be said that Dr. Stephen Schuster mastered everything he put his mind to. Despite his many interests it was the companionship of his wife, Kit, that was always paramount to Steve. Steve was preceded in death by his parents; and his daughter, Amber Kathleen Blumenstein. Survivors: Wife, Kit; son, Glenn Blumenstein and daughter-in-law Tiffany Blumenstein; sister, Dennise McElravy; and his children, Melissa and Stephen Schuster.

Jodi Michelle Seaver

Seaver, Jodi Michelle Precious daughter: it's been 12 years since your radiance brightened our lives. Since your love made us see more than whole. Your passing is still hard to really believe. It left an emptiness that has not been filled, and a reaching for a future that can never be. Yet somehow, we endure the unthinkable. And somehow, though grief persists, hope lives. Hope that the darkness that haunts our lives will give way to the dawning renewal in Christ and in Him a reunion of endless joy and love.
