Written by F. Proni

Greetings,

Many of us in the neon industry have had the great opportunity to learn, work with, and interact with Ed Waldrum, the founder of the Ed Waldrum School of Neon, Irving, Texas. For those of you who knew him, Ed was a vibrant man with a deep instilled passion for neon and teaching. He was a true American, a veteran, and a great supporter of our craft. Ed passed away this week at the age of 83. He will truly be missed.

Ed H. Waldrum began his distinguished neon career upon the completion of service to his country in 1947, where he attended the Texas Neon School in Denton, Texas for a five month enrollment. His first job in Albuquerque, New Mexico solidified the essential techniques he learned during his training, enabling him to relocate back to the Fort Worth area where he later formed a partnership with a local neon sign company.

In 1953 Ed expanded his horizons and joined Texlite, a large Texas based mass neon sign manufacturer who was responsible for producing the well known and historically admired Mobil Flying Horse. His work at Texlite included neon signage for US Royal Tire, Texaco, Conoco and Firestone. Ed's next career step brought him to JF Zimmerman and Sons, Inc - the oldest sign company in Texas.

After several years of mass neon sign experience, Mr. Waldrum began traveling the midwest spending much of his time throughout Texas and Oklahoma aiding in the repair of storm damaged neon and custom contract glass work. His endeavors invited him into over 80 neon shops at the time. Tired of traveling and with a few dollars in his pocket Ed began Waldrum Neon Sales and Service. In 1963, in coordination with siblings and family, he founded the Waldrum Sign Company. Hard work, dedication, and the following of the American dream led this company to later employ 103 employees, servicing all facets of the sign industry large and small. He retired from the company in the early 1980's.

After an emmenent career in the sign and neon sign industries, Ed found himself yearning to teach his passion to the world around him. The Ed Waldrum School of Neon was founded in the mid 1980's and has graduated over 300 students since its conception. Mr. Waldrum has proudly taught and mentored individuals spanning the globe. Students have attended from as far away as London, New Zealand, Kenya, and South Africa, not to mention the numerous regions of the United States that possess "Waldrum Trained" glass benders.

Today many of these alumni are active participants in the neon trade. Some have started their own companies, been employed by large corporations, and others have moved on to other aspects of advertising.

Ed Waldrum's fifty plus years of experience, great personality, and friendly attitude is what the "The Greatest Generation" was made of.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. -- Marine Sgt. Zachary J. Walters, 24, of Palm Coast, Fla., died Tuesday in Helmand province, Afghanistan.

Walters was assigned to 2nd Battalion, 6th Marine Regiment, 2nd Marine Division, II Marine Expeditionary Force, Camp Lejune, N.C.

Walters’ grandmother Bobbie Walters, said tonight that Walters was her only grandchild and was more like a son, than grandson.

"He was such a wonderful young man. There’s such a hole in my heart," said Walters.

He graduated from Palm Coast High School five years ago. The day after graduation at age 19, she said, he joined the Marines. After serving five years, he decided to commit another four years.

"He said ‘Nana I love it’. He had just re-upped four more years. He wasn’t gone two weeks and could’ve been out but he chose to stay," said Walters.

Walters was home in May and had only been deployed for two weeks when he stepped on an IED.

"He said ‘please don’t worry about me. I’ve had the best training in the world. I’m good at my job, been promoted you know? And if it’s my time, if it’s my day, I know where I’m going to spend eternity’.," said Walters.

Bobbie Walters said today she still is in disbelief. Details on his burial aren’t final yet.

Sgt. Walters will be laid to rest at the Dallas/Fort Worth National Cemetery, close to where his family now lives.

His death brings the total dead in Afghanistan to 1029.

He was, however, recognized by many times by various community organizations that were witnesses to his giving heart. In 1999, he was presented the Normie Sutherland Award for "the many years of selfless service to the citizens of Irving." Al loved sports, his community and helping others. In God's infinite wisdom, he took Alfred into his loving care on March 10, 2010. Cherished husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, and friend will be greatly missed. During his treasured life, he touched the lives and hearts of countless friends and all of his relatives with his loving, gentle way. He was a devoted Christian and he shared his relationship with the Lord with everyone he knew. He faithfully prayed for and encouraged his family. You could see the love of Christ in the life he lived. From Vasco, Texas, he met his beloved, doting wife Mary, and they spent 64 wonderful years together. They made a home together in Irving and raised a family that they dearly loved. Alfred was a kind, loyal friend who always made time to help those in need. He treasured the time he had with family and friends. The younger daughter of Charles E. and Helen Latimer Anderson, she grew up in Clarksville, Tex., and graduated from high school there in 1946. She attended Park Junior College before transferring to North Texas State Teachers College (now UNT). She performed regularly in campus choir, musical programs and variety shows, earning a Bachelor of Music degree in 1950. In 1987 she began a rewarding second career as an editorial specialist in the scientific publishing department of the American Heart Association at its national headquarters in Dallas. With a college minor in English, she put her ample language skills to work, proofreading and encoding medical journal manuscripts. She retired from the AHA in 1997. She also sang in several choirs including those of Spring Valley United Methodist, Highland Park Presbyterian and First Community churches. In 1958 she became the cherished wife of John E. Weeks, and they welcomed daughter Jennifer and son Joel. Also surviving are Joe's wife Nancy, grandchildren Cameron and Ethan, and Lubba's sister Virginia Anderson ("Dot") Coffie of Clarksville. Brian Charles Welch, 50, passed away with his family by his side after a courageous 10-year battle with ALS on Tuesday, Dec. 21, 2010, at his Colleyville home. Memorial service: 3 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 6, Bluebonnet Hills Memorial Chapel, 5725 Colleyville Blvd. Memorials: In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations for ALS research in honor of Brian's memory. These may be made to the North Texas chapter of the ALS Association, 1231 Greenway Drive, #270, Irving, Texas 75038. At an early age, Brian set lofty sights on aviation in order to stake his claim in the sky. He toiled long and hard to become a pilot. A graduate of California State University Sacramento, Brian earned his pilot's license while at the same time working as an air traffic controller for the FAA. Refusing to be fenced in, he then joined the U.S. Air Force and earned his Air Force wings in Phoenix, Ariz. He was recruited to instruct younger officers to fly, while at the same time earning his MBA, and then for his efforts, was awarded the opportunity to fly the A-10 Warthog in the United Kingdom. After serving his tour in Europe and Southwest Asia, flying 36 combat missions in the 1991 Gulf War, this veteran fighter pilot and his wife, Kim, decided it was finally the time to realize his long-term career objective and live out his version of the American dream as an airline pilot. Brian signed on for a career with American Airlines, flying the 727 during his first years, transitioning to the Boeing 757 and 767, where he was dual-qualified. Brian and Kim established their roots in the Grapevine/Colleyville area and became respected members of their community. Brian took great pride in being a father and together with Kim, they raised two wonderful children. For those of us whose lives were touched by Brian, it was a privilege to have known him. His good looks, sparkling smile and undaunted spirit will be missed. Survivors: Wife, Kim Welch; children, Nicola and Dylan Welch; brother, Mark Welch; sister, Katie Mayne; and his good friends and exceptional neighbors whom he was fortunate to have in his life.
