Steve Watson (1923 - 2011)

Steve Watson, 87, of Irving and formerly of Mission and Des Moines, Iowa, died Wednesday, April 27, 2011, at an Alzheimer’s care center. He was born Sept. 25, 1923, in Granger. Steve was the son of Lee and Norma Watson. Steve grew up on a farm in Central Texas. He played football for Granger High School and joined the Army Air Corps during World War II, where he served in the Pacific. He never completed high school. Before joining the military, he married Marjorie Rosnavak, who was also from Granger. While Steve was fighting in the Pacific, Marjorie and her mom and dad moved to the Los Angeles area and shortly thereafter, Lonny, their only child was born. At the conclusion of the war, Steve began his career as a communications equipment installer for Western Electric and completed his high school education by attending night classes. Steve and Marjorie divorced in 1952. He was united in marriage to Mina Mae Watson on July 29, 1956, in California, where the couple made their home prior to moving to Iowa. Steve continued to work for Western Electric in the Iowa area and functioned for a number of years as the state union steward for the Communications Workers of America union. Upon his retirement after 37 years of service, Steve and Mina moved to Mission. After Mina passed away in 2004, Steve was relocated to North Texas to be closer to his son, Lonny. Preceding him in death were his wife and an infant son, Stevan Charles Watson. Survivors: Son, Lonny; daughter-in-law, Cathy; three granddaughters; and nine great-grandchildren.
