Carol Ivy

1932 - 2013 | Obituary

Carol Ivy passed away Friday, Sept. 27, 2013. Gravesideservice: 2 p.m. Monday in Mount Olivet Cemetery. Visitation: Noon to 1:30 p.m. Monday at Mount Olivet Funeral Home. Memorials: Her memory may be honored with a gift to the General Fund of Richland Hills United Methodist Church or charity of your choosing. Carol was born March 12, 1932, in Fort Worth. She was a longtime member of Richland Hills United Methodist Church, a devout Christian, and a person who put God and her family first. Most of her life's work was as a mother and wife, taking beautiful care of her husband, daughters and extended family members. She was married to Herschel Ivy for over 50 years. She worked in banking, real estate, and for several years as a librarian with the Richland Hills Public Library. She was a devoted mother, great friend, superb listener, and easy laugher. Most people remember Carol for her rosy disposition, great sense of humor, generous spirit, and ability to encourage and comfort others. She was preceded in death by her mother, father, brother and husband. Survivors: Daughters, Karen Black of Bedford, Diana Ivy of Corpus Christi; grandson, Brian Black and wife, Sumitra, of Round Rock; great-granddaughters, Mackenzie Black and Sidney Black; brother, The Honorable Michael Bradford and wife, Ann Bradford of Midland; niece, Heather Dooley and husband, Miles Dooley, of Austin; niece, Lauren Bradford of Midland; and a host of many other family and friends.
