Ralph Edward Jenkins completed his earthly journey on Thursday, March 27, 2014 due to congestive heart failure. Born in Clinton, Indiana on November 5, 1924, the fourth of five sons, to Barbara Lindsay Jenkins and Carl Eppert Jenkins, he attended schools there and later in Jupiter, Florida. An avid reader and eternal scholar, he received his undergraduate degree from the University of South Carolina and continued his graduate studies at several Universities in Texas and Oklahoma. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. During World War II he served in U.S. Naval Intelligence in the Pacific from 1943 – 1947. A petroleum engineer, his entire career was with Core Laboratories, Inc., where in 38 years he advanced from Assistant District Engineer to a vice presidency. His work in research and development resulted in several papers and patents. He was an editor for the Petroleum and Gas Journal for several years and was on numerous committees for the Society of Petroleum Engineers. The recipient of several professional awards and honors, there was none he prized more highly than the Silver Beaver Award he received for adult leadership in the Boy Scouts of America. In 1952, after a whirlwind courtship, he married Virginia Lee Hampton, of Worland, Wyoming. They were blessed with three children. He traveled widely throughout his career and ultimately with his wife saw all of the fifty states, half of Canada and all seven continents. Preceded in death by his parents and all of this brothers, he is survived by his wife of 61 years, their three children, Linda Ann Schuler (David), Carl Jerome (Debra) and John Fielden (Toni), eight grandchildren, numerous step-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. Diana Jennings

Jennings, Diana Kay Craig If you did not have the pleasure knowing my darling daughter Kay, it's a pity because she traded her earthly garments for an ethereal robe on the 6th of March. A memorial service in her honor was held on March 8th at Greenland Hills United Methodist Church. She was predeceased by her father John M. Craig (Houston), grand-parents EM/Viola Craig (Pitts-burgh), and also other Craigs: Bob/ Margaret, Bodhi, Isabel, Virginia, Scott and John/Virginia Zimmer. Grandparents Clyde/Wynters Tittle (Wichita Falls) and other Tittles: Clyde/Nettie, Gerald, and Joe/Lola Davitte. She is survived by mother Joanne Craig, sons Scott and Andrew Jennings, Mike Kutner, sister Barbara/Angelo Cassaro, niece Allison/Tracy Hunter and Jayde, Spencer, Ashley, Liam, Seth, in addition to nephew John Angelo Cassaro, niece Mary Elizabeth Cassaro, and Craig survivors: Dick/ Anna, Tom/Anne and Fran, Tittle survivors: Martin/Barbara, Jeremy, Craig and Jillian. Also, Richard/ Shirley Oliver and BK/Susan Wadsworth. Kay was special, allowing me to be a vital part of her life, always. So I decided to ask Jesus if he would give her preferential treatment. Immediately, there was a band of angels coming after her, gathering Kay up in their arms, soaring through the thin atmosphere, and then delivering her to heaven's gate. There sat Peter, thumbing through his rolodex of names and titles to go across. When he saw Kay, he paid no attention to that, but said, "Kay, we've been expecting you. Go right in." And there was this beautiful chair front and center with a tag that said, "Reserved for Kay" and another that said, "All Dues Prepaid." Then her father and her great grandmother - wearing a red rose for quick I.D. - appeared and embraced her, and then as to the entourage there was all this pushing and shoving, impatiently waiting to touch her. I was so pleased to learn she would be in such good hands, but I needed to get back to Jesus and thank him for his love and consideration. Wouldn't you? Now let's go to the beginning. A Houston girl, born in 1954, eventually fell heir to a playhouse that accommodated a small table, two matching chairs, a stepstool and three girls. She was a top sergeant with all kinds of rules and regulations, but in the summer time a bevy of girls would sit in the grass patiently awaiting their turn to go inside for the fun. Kay took all of her meals inside through the years regardless of inclement weather. In the interim, she finished River Oaks Elementary, Lanier Junior Hi, Lamar Hi School before graduating from TCU in 1976 and marrying the same week. They moved to Florida for a spell, and there, as she always said, her "production company" was up and running, garnering Christopher Scott Jennings and three years later in Plano, Andrew Lee Jennings, who were always the loves of her life. Then her father died, and she and the boys were by themselves. At that time she was working for the purple Barney, and I was there to be her helper. We taught the boys to cook, and because no self-respecting chef would be without his uniform, Kay made aprons. She and I had such fun sewing for the boys. We spent time dressing a family of stuffed rabbits in pajamas which matched the boys'. We also created leather sleeveless vests with colored beads and fringe, but the crowning achievement was a leather saddle, stirrups and reins for Jessie the Wonder Horse. In time, Scott and Andrew left and Kay and I were taking trips around the lovely US of A and a cruise that was a fluke. One night, Kay met an interesting fellow named Mike Kutner who was Mr. Right, Mr. Wonderful and her anchor to lean on, and they brought love and happiness into their union. Then one day cancer reared its ugly head, bringing with it a veracious appetite for destruction. Off and on, in three years it struck heavy blows staggering her frail body, and with a fierce grip, finally won the marathon. What's wrong with this picture? I'm 91. Kay was 59, and parents aren't supposed to bury their children, but man proposes and God disposes. Gertrude Stein spoke of roses being forever. May I paraphrase? A child regardless of age, is a child is a child is a child forever. So my prayer to Kay would be, "Goodbye precious child, Kay. Unfortunately your Valentine couldn't stay, but you will live healthy and happy, forever and ever in my heart as long as there is breath in my lungs and blood flowing through my veins."

Frances Laville Gesford Johnson
(September 27, 1931 - December 19, 2014)

FRANCES LAVILLE GESFORD JOHNSON. Born September 27, 1931 in Lufkin, Texas to Felix Jackson Gesford and Allie Myrl Clark Gesford. Died December 19, 2014 in Irving, Texas. Survived by: children, Patsy Johnson Crawford and her spouse, Brad Crawford (Lewisville), Charles Johnson (Irving) and Wanda Johnson Halcom (Lewisville); one grandson, Cody Crawford (Frisco).

Frances retired from Sears on Lamar in Dallas after 27 years in the office on the 9th Floor. Her beloved husband – John – died in October of 1991. She missed him so much – almost the whole first year he was gone – she sat out by his grave every day. She and Wanda kept fresh flowers for the season in his vase. She stayed busy by feeding her family some of the best meals ever eaten, traveling with her children and attending bingo games or anything conducted by the Irving Heritage Senior Center including the Miss Mature Irving Pageants every October. We had so much fun the last year or two when her best friend, Bitsy Wrinkle, moved back here from Arkadelphia, Arkansas and we went to visit other Sears retirees for a meal and good fellowship. She loved the Dallas Cowboys and we take great delight knowing that her first Cowboy game in Heaven was won by a large margin. Her favorite AND most dreaded time of the year is Christmas. She started dialysis last Spring and fusses all the way home every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday about ever even starting dialysis. Otherwise, we never heard her fuss or curse – she loved everyone and everyone loved her. She loved Southern Gospel music and never missed a chance to go to a ‘Singin’. Her favorite group was The Huckaba Family from right here in Irving. Her last birthday party was held at Art in the Vine where we all painted an old barn in a field of bluebonnets and we had ice cream; cake and presents! She was surrounded by friends and family and we have many great pictures from that day. She is now being surrounded by friends and family again but this time, our hearts are broken.

A visitation will be held from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m., Monday, December 22 at Donnelly’s Colonial Funeral Home, 606 West Airport Freeway in Irving. Graveside service is 2:00 p.m., Tuesday, December 23 at Oak Grove Memorial Gardens, 1413 East Irving Blvd. in Irving.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.
